Rational for determination:

Near Space Systems, Inc. is proposing to use DOE funding to investigate, develop and validate a series of next generation small hydro turbine generator designs that will have the ability to maximize the energy transfer from flowing water to electrical power generation. The objective is to determine candidate technologies that would have the potential to improve small hydro turbine performance and increased efficiency and application of small hydro turbine generators for small hydro sources.

Near Space Systems will be conducting desktop studies, design, and data analysis activities only. Based on this information, DOE has determined that this project is consistent with activities identified in categorical exclusion A9 (Information gathering data analysis, conceptual design, and information).
