I. Project Title:

Categorical Exclusion for PNNL Projects involving small-scale research and development, laboratory operations, and pilot projects in the 300 Area - 2013

II. Project Description and Location (including Time Period over which proposed action will occur and Project Dimensions - e.g., acres displaced/disturbed, excavation length/depth, area/location/number of buildings, etc.):

PNNL proposes to conduct 1) bench-scale research projects, 2) conventional laboratory operations, 3) small-scale R&D projects, and 4) pilot projects to verify proof of concepts before demonstration actions (generally for less than 2 years) in the 300 Area. The facilities associated with these projects must provide appropriate safety systems, exhaust ventilation, air filtration, and other confinement or control appropriate to the nature of the materials and equipment used in the operation. Activities include, but are not limited to, the following: sample and standards prep, routine management of laboratory reagents and materials; chemical, physical, and/or biological analysis of samples of environmental media, wastes, products, or other materials; treatability studies; radiation-monitoring equipment calibration, maintenance, characterization, or verification; radiological separations studies, neutron activation, and other radiological research; shielded facilities operation and use of sealed sources in research and testing; simulant development and testing; waste-form modeling and life-cycle testing; use of specialized sampling and analytical equipment and instrumentation such as mass and infrared spectrometers, lasers, transmission and scanning electron microscopes, and nuclear magnetic resonance spectrometers; thermoanalytical research and testing techniques; carbon management research and development; robotics and automation research and development; transportation technology research and development; industrial process efficiencies and energy utilization research; fuels/bio-fuels development and testing; bio-based product research, testing and development; imaging technology research and development; catalysis research and development; laboratory fisheries and other aquatic research; energy research and technology development, diagnostics and controls; purchase/use of analytical/research instruments and equipment for bench-scale use; minor modifications to rooms, equipment, and instruments if in direct support of bench-scale, small-scale R&D, or pilot project laboratory operations.

Associated activities may include noise, air emission, liquid effluent, and waste generation. These will be managed accordance to and in compliance with DOE orders, and Federal, and state regulations and guidelines. In all instances, the demand for resources and environmental impacts resulting from implementation of these proposed activities would be small and temporary in nature.

III. Reviews (if applicable):

Biological Review Report #: Biological Reports will be prepared for projects, as necessary.

Cultural Review Report #: Cultural Reports will be prepared for projects, as necessary.
