Georgia-Pacific To Close Bellingham, Wash., Pulp Mill
Copyright (c) 2001 Dow Jones & Company, Inc.

ATLANTA (Dow Jones)—Georgia-Pacific Corp. (GP) plans to permanently close its already-idled Bellingham, Wash., pulp mill, which was temporarily shuttered in December due to high electric power costs stemming from the West Coast energy crisis.

In a press release Friday, Georgia-Pacific said the closure will affect about 420 employees, many of whom have been laid off since December.

The adjacent tissue paper and converting facilities will continue to be operated with temporary generators, by the remaining work force of about 330, while the company looks for other sources of affordable electric power.

The tissue paper and converting operations have been powered by temporary generators since January.

New York Stock Exchange-listed shares of Georgia-Pacific traded recently at $29.90, up 99 cents, or 3.4%, on composite volume of 896,800 shares. Average daily volume is 1.85 million shares.

All right, let's try this again. I believe last Friday, March 30, 2001, I requested the following:

Message follows:

Could you, by Monday noon, send me your Chapter(s) in the format that I requested on 3/26/01. As an example of what I'd like to see, I am attaching Treasury's latest submission.

We've got to start plugging in where graphics and photographs go in the chapters and seeing it laid out like that will help.

To say the least, I didn't get an overwhelming response. I know that everybody was pushing to get ready for the Principals Meeting on Tuesday. Now that effort is virtually past, let's get back to business. Send those chapters along please.

We're still (and probably will forever) having difficulty with attachments. Can you send the chapters along to John Fenzel and/or Kjersten Drager and they can forward them to me.

On another topic, can you start working with chapters 1 & 2 and find appropriate photographs to illustrate salient points. We need to get that material identified soon so that people here can start whacking away at it.

Charlie,

Just want to be sure we are on the same page on DOE's NEP tasks.

Sent drafts of DOE-led chapters 3, 6, 7, 8 to WH (in late March) with graphics hand delivered. Waiting for interagency comments. To date, received comments from DOE's EE, EIA, FE on chapter 3. Received revisions from DOE/EE on chapters 6 and 7. Received PO comments on chapter 8. 6

Electronically sent transmission graphic Andrew Lundquist specifically requested (will send hard copy if desired).

Charlie Smith is working directly with EE and FE to obtain photographs for inclusion in chapters.

As a pointed reminder. All photographs that you are proposing for use in the National Energy Policy Development Group's Report must be submitted in either print, slide, or transparency format. If you don't have access to prints, slides, or transparencies, then you've got to select another image. And if that's the case, we need to know now and we need to know your completion date. A number of you have submitted prints from a digital file and that is not going to work.

I'd like a status by noon, Tuesday, April 10, 2001. Thanks.

I've attached the word file of Chapters 1 & 2. I've asked Joan O'Callaghan to fax you her mark up/edit of those chapters. If would give us clean copy ASAP, we would very much appreciate it.

Thanks

We haven't started editing chapters 7, 8 or 9. In view of that, I'm asking that the lead authors (DOE for chapters 7 and 8, and DOT for Chapter 9) to consider comments from other agencies up to COB Monday, April 16, 2001. We'll close it off at that time and let Joan O'Callaghan begin editing them.
