Comment:	In the middle of a global pandemic, the number one source of misinformation is President Trump and his administration. Most recently White House coronavirus task force member Dr. Scott Atlas tweeted that masks don't work against Covid-19. Twitter took down this tweet because it violated its Covid-19 Misleading Information Policy. Please remember that this potentially deadly misinformation is not coming from foreign bad actors, or even from some random domestic conspiracy theorist. It is coming directly from the White House. That's right - our taxes are being used to spread lies and disinformation. Meanwhile scientists such as Dr. Anthony Fauci

have been sidelined because they insist on protecting public health rather than Trump's reelection campaign. After the Democrats retake the Senate the GOP needs to be legislated out of existence, as it's a threat to public health. *🌐
